LANDMARKS IN CANADA COMMERCE

Wheat, our very bread and butter, represents such an important element in Canada's economic situation that we feel that at this time when the great annual movement of our crops begins to get under way that a story concerning its methods and ways will be of interest to our readers. There are many points which perhaps are not understood by many people throughout our dominion.

The moving of this large volume of grain involves a highly organized system of handling and transportation, especially as every effort is made to get the grain into a position where it can be shipped by boat before the close of navigation and, consequently, the bulk of it is brought down to the terminal elevators within a limited period.

The wheat growing provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, are served by a system of country elevators, situated on railway lines and within reasonable distances from the wheat fields. These elevators are all licensed by the government and the owners must file bonds with the Board of Grain Commissioners to protect customers; consequently the holders of storage tickets have for security not only the financial resources of the elevator companies but also these surety bonds. Most of these elevators are owned by large elevator companies, milling companies and large co-operative companies, commonly referred to as line elevator companies. In addition to these there are single elevators and small groups owned by local dealers of farmers' associations. They vary in size; but a standard elevator has a capacity of 20,000 bushels, and altogether there are of these country elevators, operating in the three provinces, approximately 3,700.

There are four methods by which a farmer can, under the present trade conditions, dispose of his grain, namely:

1. By selling his load to the nearest elevator.
2. By taking his wheat in an elevator and storing it in a graded Storage Ticket, his grain thereby losing its identity.
3. By engaging a special bin and taking a special bin ticket, by which the identity of his grain is kept intact and the grading and dockage fixed by the Dominion government.
4. By not using an elevator at all, by getting a car spooled at the nearest loading platform, loading the car himself, shipping it to his own order or the order of a commission firm and handling it on the usual consignment basis.

In all methods, bar the first one, the cleaning charges, if any, interest on freight, interest on advance and drying charges, if necessary, are all payable by the farmer, and any loss in drying is also the farmer's loss.

One Car Per Man
The railways distribute cars in the order of application, a car register for this purpose being held at each station. Only one car at a time in rotation is allowed to one man, irrespective of the amount of grain he may own. This applies to elevators as well as to individuals loading at the platform.

All grain is inspected in transit, en route to the terminals. The grain inspection points are Calgary for grain going west of that city, Duluth for bonded grain going south and Winnipeg for all grain going east. As at most of our surplus wheat goes to the United Kingdom and to Europe, it is at Winnipeg that the bulk of the inspection work is done. Samples are taken, five or seven from each car, these samples with number of the car are placed in a small sack and are delivered to the inspection department, where they are tested for grade and cleaned for dockage. Dockage is foreign matter, such as dirt, seeds, etc.

There is comparatively only a short delay of the grain at Winnipeg for sampling purposes, as the men engaged in that work are experts; five men can obtain samples from a train of about forty cars in three hours and, when the number of men is increased, a train can be cleared in approximately one hour. This work goes on steadily for seven days a week, and for twenty-four hours a day. After the grain has been inspected an official certificate of grade is issued. The officer inspecting the grains knows neither the name of the owner nor the point from which it was shipped. If the owner of the grain is not satisfied with the grade given, he may ask for a re-inspection, and if, after that, he still thinks the grade too low, he may ask for a survey board. The survey board is appointed by the Dominion government and their decision is final. Regarding the inspection of grain there are one hundred and sixty-five classifications of wheat, and including the coarse grain there are two hundred and forty-six.

After the samples have been obtained from the cars at Winnipeg, the grain is taken on to the terminal elevators at Port William or Port Arthur, four hundred miles east of Winnipeg, at the head of Lake Superior. From this point the grain can be shipped either by lake or by rail. At the terminals the grain is unloaded and stored by government warehousemen. The bill of lading issued by the railway is eventually exchanged for a terminal elevator receipt. This is the document which passes from seller to buyer when trades take place on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Eight Boxes of "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Completely Relieved Her.

I suffered with Rheumatism for ten months, could hardly move in bed, and was miserable all the time. Tried several physicians and took many remedies, but they left me at the same place, in bed and suffering, the Rheumatism was so bad.

Finally started in taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and continued the treatment regularly as I found myself getting better. After using eight boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' (which cost only $4.1) I am completely well without a trace of Rheumatism.

1887 that the Winnipeg Grain and Produce Exchange was opened. It was incorporated in 1891 by act of the Manitoba legislature, but because of certain adverse legislation it was dissolved, and there was organized the present Winnipeg Grain Exchange as a voluntary non-incorporated association. As such it is a self governing institution; it is independent of any charter and, as such, it has operated from 1908 until now. This is the largest 'Cash' wheat market in the world.

The association has to secure information, to provide a suitable meeting place and to establish and maintain reasonable and proper terms and regulations for the prompt and efficient making and performance of contracts.

The 'Cash' price is for grain in store at a terminal elevator. 'Track' price is for grain loaded in a car at a country point and 'Street' price is for grain in wagon lots at a country point. The value of wheat depends upon its relative position to market.

It naturally follows that cash or spot wheat commands the highest price. The sellers of cash grain on the Exchange include the elevator companies, farmers' association and commission men, all of whom are acting on behalf of the producers. The buyers include Canadian Millers and exporters selling to British or European mills, either direct or through other channels.

nels. It follows, we think, that true competitive prices are fairly established.

Our surplus wheat is exported and the price paid in Winnipeg is the price paid by the foreign buyer less freight from Port William to destination, insurance and the seller's profit.

The building in which the Exchange operates is the largest office building in Winnipeg, and is occupied almost entirely by grain firms.

Cash wheat refers to the purchase and sale of actual grain. Purchases made under a future market contract may be delivered on any day of the month designated at the option of the seller. The buyer consequently has no guarantee that he will be tendered his grain before the end of the month. Contracts from foreign buyers do not necessarily fit in with this delivery date, and the exporter may require the wheat, say, on the 20th of the month. Consequently he has to go out and buy his cash wheat. This situation obtains in regard to all shippers, and immediately there is created a 'competitive' buying for the actual grain; naturally prices go up and a premium is offered over the future price. These premiums vary constantly, being regulated by supply and demand. Within the past eighteen months premiums as high as twenty-five cents a bushel were paid for cash wheat.

It is not usual for the buyer and seller to negotiate direct, this being done by cash grain brokers, who are cash grain transactions executed in the pit. When the sale is made the deal is completed in very simple manner—the seller on receipt of payment hands the buyer a terminal warehouse receipt for amount and grade purchased. When the shipper wants the grain shipped he hands his warehouse receipt to the Lake Shippers' Clearance association, who attend to all details, and when the boat or car is loaded, they return to him (the shipper) or his nominee, the lake or rail bill of lading. The exporter or miller thus completes the entire transaction without at any time seeing a kernel of the grain. The Canadian system of grading is looked upon by the foreign buyers with such favor that a dispute regarding the quality of the wheat is almost unknown. This does not, of course, necessarily apply to what is sold on sample. In such a case the dispute would be settled by a board of arbitration.

A NASTY, DRY, HACKING COUGH

Was Relieved By Dr. Wood's

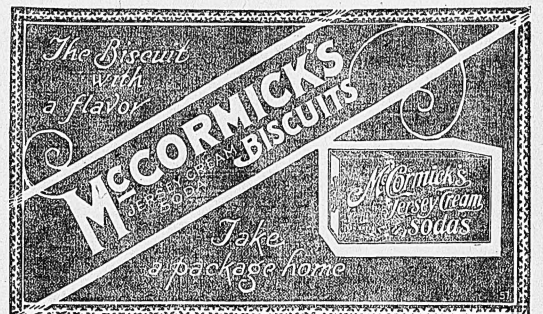

Norway Pine Syrup

That nasty, dry, hacking, lung-wrenching cough is very annoying on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated condition, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes, for if the cough becomes settled on the lungs, consumption may ensue.

We know of no remedy that will relieve stubborn coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. Wm. G. Maxwell, R. R. No. 2, Delford, N. S., writes: "Having used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup during the 'flu' epidemic I must say I cannot praise it too highly. It brought almost instant relief after being unable for nights with a nasty, dry, hacking cough and sore throat, and I was so cured I could hardly speak."

There is only one Norway Pine Syrup and that is Dr. Wood's. Be sure and get the genuine. Price 25c and 60c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Know Your Own Alberta

A remarkable development has taken place in Alberta during the past year, or twelve years, in the way of grain production. Increases in both acreage and yield have put this province safely among the grain producing countries of America. In 1920 the wheat crop of Alberta was 8,467,799 bushels, and in 1921 it was 5,917,760 bushels. The heaviest year on record was 1920 when the official figures were 8,526,961 bushels. Over a period of ten years, spring wheat has averaged 20.34 bushels to the acre and winter wheat 22.61. In 1915, which is still looked on as a bumper year, the figures were 35.53 and 36.17 respectively. The best yield of wheat recorded over a large acreage was that of the Noble Foundation at Noholsted in 1914 when 54,239 bushels were grown from 1,000 acres of measured land, giving an average of 54.2 bushels per acre. The next best crop to wheat in rate and the productivity of this grain has increased from 24,515,561 bushels in 1909 to 92,156,665 bushels in 1921. In oats, too, the harvest year on record was 1920, when 115,091,255 bushels were grown. The barley production has almost quadrupled in twelve years. And the greatest percentage of increase is that shown in the rye crop which has steadily gained from 55,891 bushels in 1909 to 3,198,758 bushels in 1921.

Going After Business

Catalog houses are busy the last few weeks sending out their printed literature to get people interested in their goods so as to get them to send in orders. Two often the descriptions of the goods which a local merchant cannot do as he is here right along and must back up the goods. There is a lot in going after business, however, and that is where the outsiders often have the advantage over the local man. A farmer sizes up the situation well as follows:

"Personally I believe a family should trade wherever it can do the best and in the long run I believe a family can do better by trading regularly at home, but there is one phase of the city buying habit that we farmers ought to consider. Most of our troubles come from the city. Few if any of the troubles of the nation have their rise and origin in the country. Practically all of them come from the cities of population. It is country money that has built up the great city catalog houses and the catalog houses are simply one of the large business institutions dominating our country. They have their headquarters in the big cities. The farmers of the country have built up these catalog houses and thereby helped to centre the business enterprises of the nation in the large cities. It is to our interest to have the small towns built up—not the big cities. No greater calamity could come to us as farmers trying to build up our rural market centres than to have the big cities kill off the villages where we want our marketing enterprises established. Of course it follows that country merchants must deliver the goods at reasonable prices and this most of them do. That being the case, it is to our local interest, I believe to build up business in our home towns rather than in the big cities.—R.K.

Alberta
Creamery Butter

There are five centralized creameries in Edmonton drawing cream from all parts of the province touched by the railways from Red Deer north. They are: The E.C.D. (said to have the largest output in Canada), the Woodland, the Swift Canadian Co., the P. Burns Co., and the United Creameries. Besides the Edmonton creameries there are a number of local creameries, some cooperative, some the result of private enterprise and some subsidiaries of the centralized creameries. At Ryley and Viking the local creameries are co-operative. At Tofted, Walbridge, Lacombe, Red Deer (two at Red Deer), St. Paul, Stettin, Bentley, Rimbey, and at Valhalla, in the northwestern section of the Grande Prairie district, they are local enterprises. At Wetaskiwin, Dayland, Vernalda, Grande Prairie and Ponoka are subsidiaries of the E.C.D. At Camrose the Central Creameries Co. has a creamery, and at Ponoka there is a creamery under joint control.

New local creameries are being built at Kilsnoy, Westlock and Monro by the E.C.D., by the P. Burns Co. at Manville, and by the Walbridge company at Irma.

At Wetaskiwin and Vermilion it is estimated that during the height of the milking season, the milk checks at each of these two points amount to $1 a day.

Of one million pounds of creamery butter made in Alberta during the past year, it is estimated that 65 per cent, or over five million pounds, was made in the country extending north from and including Red Deer. At an average estimate value of 40 cents a pound, the creamery butter product north of Red Deer would be worth over three and a half million dollars. Eggs and poultry are handled at the milk receiving stations, and paid for by check. Hitherto there has been a meat in British Columbia for the surplus eggs and poultry of Alberta, but the home production has increased so much in that province that the market for the Alberta product is practically closed for all classes of poultry except turkeys.

HARVEST HYMN

Now autumn leaves on every plain,
His mellow fruits and fertile grain;
And laughing plenty, crown's with sheaves,
With purple grapes, and spreading
leaves,
In rich profusion pours around,
After flowing treasures on the ground.
Oh, mark the great, the liberal hand,
That scatters blessings o'er the land;
And to the God of nature praise,
The grateful song, the hymn of praise.
The instant corn, in vernal hours,
He nurtured with his gentle showers,
And bade the summer clouds diffuse
Their balmy store of genial dew.
His mark's the tender stem arise,
O'er ripen'd by the glowing skies,
And now, matur'd, his work behold.
The cheering harvest waves in gold.
To nature's God with joy we raise,
The grateful song, the hymn of praise.

If Editors Told The Truth

Only a short time ago the editor of a paper in Indiana grew tired of being called a liar, and announced that he would tell the truth in future, and the next issue contained the following items:

John Coyle, our groceryman, is doing a poor business. His store is dirty and musty. How can he do much?

The Rev. Mr. Stye preached last Sunday on Charity. His sermon was punk.

Dr. Canby died at his home here Tuesday. The doctor gave it out as heart failure. Whiskey killed him.

Married—Miss Sylvia Rhodes and James Collins, last Saturday at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a Jack rabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and is a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He has been living off the old folks at home all his life and is not worth shucks. It will be a hard life.

ROBERT STEAD'S
GREATEST BOOK

You will never have to ask that question "What is Canadian Literature?" again when you have read Robert Stead's latest and, so far, his greatest novel, "Neighbors." There are few Canadians who are not familiar with the author's former novels, "The Homecoming," "The Cowpuncher," and "Denison Grant." This new book runs true to the Stead tradition of a good story, real humor, pure love and a real idea—even some real mystery, and it has more of the real atmosphere of life in it than any other which has come to us in a long while. It is true writing, and will add fresh laurels to the fame of this already well-beloved author.

"Neighbors" relates how two families of young people, brother and sister, neighbors, in a little Ontario town; neighbors, fifteen years later, on adjoining homesteads in the Saskatchewan country, find life and love. Their stories run smoothly until a young Englishman settles in the community, and upsets all expectations, including the reader's. But the best part of "Neighbors" is in our mind and what makes it a great book is the picture of the people who make up that far-scattered "Neighborhood" of homesteaders, who are the old villager who finds "locations" for the gullible newcomers; the "Snoozers" are a giant big-eyed Polak family, who live in a cave that the precious 1750 stock may have built shelter—and the widow and the Scotch family—and the wedding! All of that is writing of the finest type, and places this Canadian book in high order among the best literature of today.

"Neighbors" is a happy novel of the Northwest, by Robert Stead, Author of "Stoughton," Toronto, $1.75.

LYE

Comparatively few people realize to what extent Gillett's Lye can be used to advantage in every home. For instance, with one can of Gillett's Lye and five and a half pounds of lard or grease, ten pounds of good hard soap can be made. Use one tablespoon Gillett's Lye in gallon of water for cleaning and disinfecting refrigerators, sinks, garbage cans, tiled floors, baths and toilets.

District Practically
Out Of Cattle Now

While the dry weather does not give much encouragement for next year's crop, a dry fall and an open winter will be appreciated by farmers hanging on to their cattle, says Gooseberry Lake correspondent in the Canadian Review. It is certainly surprising the number of cattle that have been placed on the market this fall. In Castor, Comatona, Richdale and Hanna large numbers of cattle are brought in every day. In fact, the whole district from the Red Deer to the Battle River is about cleaned up owing to the shortage of feed. While this might bring some advantage to those who are able to hang on to their cattle, the effect to the whole district will be disastrous and will be felt for many years to come.

Business Conditions

Our statistician, after interviewing various people gives the following reports on business conditions in general:

"The first person interviewed was an artist's model, who admitted that she was just making a bare living.

"Business is dull," remarked the cleaner driver.

"Looking up" declared the astronomer.

"Dead" said the undertaker.

"Fine" said the judge.

"Quiet" said the bootlegger.

"Looking better" said the beauty doctor.

"Fair" said the street car conductor.

"Trotter" said the egg man.

"Pretty soft" said the mattress maker.

"Light" said the gas man.

"I have seen the worst," said the butcher.

"Hard to beat" said the bass drummer.

"Just saw, saw," said the seamstress.

"Bum" said the hobo.

"Looking brighter" said the boot black.

The preacher, who was the last one seen, admitted that he was working to beat the devil.

It is believed that the present season almost establishes a record for freedom from frost in Alberta.

LET'S ALL START PAYING UP!

The first day of the month arrives, as scheduled by the almanac, and then to save the merchants' lives, I toddle up the street and back. Escorted by the village band, I climb up Main Street's asphalt hills, and with my cheque book in my hand I pay up all my monthly bills. It's good to see the grocer's face when I arrive with cheque on tap; it's good to see the glad smiles chase themselves across his baggard map. And from the butcher's furrowed brow the shades of trouble flee away when I would pay him for a cow I bought in fragments day by day. The weary baker seems quite gay and heaves no more his heart-sick sighs, when I invade his mart and say, "I'll pay you for those concrete pies." Oh, many books have told us how to make the world a better place, to speed the optimistic hour, and light up every morning face. And doubtless all such schemes are fine, and Pollyanna cut such a scheme of mine will all the other schemes surpass. I might invade the merchant's store and say a lot of sunny things, and he would rate me as a bore, and throw a score of bricks grievous woes, his trade is slack, he's needin' cash; and sunshine words and spells like those appear to him as tawdry trash. When I say: "By heck! Produce your bill—'ll pay it aw," he promptly falls upon my brow and plants a kiss upon my brow.—Wall, Mason.

A HARD ROW TO HOE

may prove to be a rich row to harvest. Of all the many classes that go to make up the strength of Canada, the farmer appreciates best the value of patience and industry and the importance of thrifty living. With courage and determination he turns hard rows into fruitful ones and barren acres into rich soil.

This Bank knows the farmer, his problems and difficulties, and knows how to serve him in a practical manner.

We shall be pleased to have you consult with our nearest Branch.

"We'll pick you up in our SEDAN"

MARY had planned so much on attending the dance that night over at Malmo, but a storm was now raging outside and she knew that she must now stay at home.

Mary was almost heartbroken in her disappointment when the phone rang.

It was brother Joe: "We'll pick you up in our Sedan," he said, and they were most joyful words to Mary.

The Ford Sedan is a remarkable all-weather car. You'll appreciate one more and more as the weather roughens up.

Place your order now and prepare for comfortable winter driving.

CHRISTMAS IN OLD COUNTRY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS

A visit to the old country is something that a great number of people are giving thought to at this time of the year, and many have already made plans to reach their friends in time for the Christmas and New Year season.

Canadian Pacific steamships are deservedly popular for this trip and to give extra special accommodation for those who are going overseas this season, the Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged for a special train to connect with the S.S. Montcalm, sailing from St. John, Tuesday, December 12. Through tourist sleepers will be operated from Edmonton at 10.10 p.m. on Thursday, December 7th, and from Calgary at 1.35 a.m. Friday December 8, making connection with the special train leaving Winnipeg 5.29 a.m. on December 9th.

Special tourist sleepers from Calgary and Edmonton via regular trains will also be operated in connection with the sailings from St. John of the S.S. Montcalm on December 1st, S.S. Victorian on December 7th, S.S. 3rd Jia, on December 10th, S.S. Metagana on December 15th.

All these Tourist sleepers run right to the ship's side, no changes, no inconveniences. They are the grand plank to the steamer. 29-31

PLAIN TALKS ON PRACTICAL TOPICS

(By Joshua Oldtime in "Onward")
"They used to be an old man by the name of Calix Counter lived by himself up on the third elevation. He had been quite well off at one time, but all of a sudden he had lost what he got for doing odd jobs for the farmers. Then he got sick and wasn't able to work, he couldn't earn his living and he finally died. After he died they found an old cheque in his pocket for a thousand dollars. They thought he had saved it for such time as he should need it and then his mind sort of faded and he forgot it."

I used to think having a few dollars laid up in the bank and a little change in your pocket was proof against being broke. But it seems it ain't. Apparently it's just as important to know how to use it. And the fella that don't use what he's got is as broke as the fella that ain't got anything."

Hein' broke financially must be a bad feeling. To think that you can't buy food or anything or pay your way! I must say I have been spared that. But when we've got experience in that line, we've been broke in other ways and it's a bit to me shame and sorrow.

Money don't buy so much after all. Food and something to wear and a place to shelter us. There are about all the necessities that money supplies for us. But when we've got them, we haven't been touch on our real wants. If we was satisfied when we got all them we'd not be any different to the animals in the barnyard. It's the longing for something that makes us different to them. And to be broke in the currency that buys them is something far worse than financial bankruptcy. It's long for power, and companionship and have anything to buy them with—I know what that means. Not to be able to pay your spiritual way through life is awful.

One day Sam Salloway's sons got into my corn, and I felt around in my spiritual pocket and they wasn't no change and I got hoppin' mad about them cows.

Another time I got down in the month wonderin' what was the use of strugglin' along anyway. What did it all amount to? And I was ready to give up. I was broke. Couldn't pay my way.

And then I was laid up with a spell of sickness just as sudden time was comin' on and I had another call on my resources which they wasn't strong enough to stand and I got real sour thinkin' I had got a raw deal. And then I thought of Calix Counter and how I was; just like him carryin' around a cheque and not knowin' enough to cash it. They'd been a big deposit made in my credit in the bank of Universal Supply and I was got' around broke. Didn't have enough spiritual resource to go through life without cashin' it. I was sick to the Manager of the bank and said I was goin' to cash a big cheque and to give me some of it in patience and some of it in faith and the rest in courage and I got it.

"They all kinds of blessings" and things was for me on in sickness and disappointment and we ain't got 'em. Not because we ain't got the price, but because we don't know enough to use what we got. We don't cash our cheques.

UNPRIME RAT

SKINS ILLEGAL

Notice has been given to all fur dealers in the province that in accordance with legislation passed by the Alberta house last spring, the possession of unprime rat skins will incur prosecution, this now being a violation of the law. Not only the trapping of muskrats out of season, but the holding of skins so caught will hereafter be illegal.

There has been considerable trouble on this score, it seems, and as a result the classification of Alberta muskrats in the outside fur markets has suffered somewhat. An effort is now to be made to put a stop to the practice of trapping and selling unprime skins, and Chief Game Guardian H. Lawton says that the department will prosecute every offender of whom it secures information.

Premier Addresses Students

Premier Greenfield was the speaker at the Sunday services of the University Y.M.C.A. at Edmonton. The large convention hall was well filled with students, staff and townspeople. The premier's address was a splendid example of terseness, coupled with sound advice to the student body. Two or three thoughts expressed by the premier should go to all parts of the province:

"What is the function of a university? Briefly it is this—to teach men and women how to live."

"Complete living cannot be a living with one's self alone. It is not enough to acquire education, you must use it, not only for yourself, but you must pass it on to others."

"I think you will understand better when I tell you that I myself have not had the privilege of a university education. Recently I spoke at a convocation. I took occasion to say that the week before I had been walking through the halls of Toronto university. It was brought home forcibly then what it meant to a man to have a university education, and all too few of the young people of this province enjoy the opportunities and the privileges which you enjoy here today."

"There is one thing that I think should be brought home to you students. That is, that your education and training in this university is made possible by those people who, either because they cannot afford it, or because of some other reason, are unable to give their own children the privilege which you enjoy."

"We need men and women who will reach out beyond themselves into civic and political life. I don't know of anything which needs the grasp and understanding of trained men and women to the same extent that our public life does today. Men and women who have that ability, who have that vision, should count public life as a duty, and not shrink from it."

"My message this morning is, measure up to your opportunities. Measure up to your privileges. Realize your responsibilities and go out to meet them. Don't wait until responsibility is forced upon you. Make the complete life yours. I do not know of any period in history which has needed men with a clearer conception of that complete life than the period we are now passing through today. The field today is ripe for men with a zeal for service to their fellows, and those men are all too few."

Wild Bird Sanctuaries
True sportsmen will highly commend the police and game officials operating in this province on the decision to enforce the regulations for the protection of wild game of all kinds in the parks, has meant. The visitor can get in close touch with many of nature's creatures, and observe them following the life nature intended them to lead. Bears, deer, mountain sheep, mountain goats, porcupines, and the smaller animals. When the angler deer come into your back yard and eat salt out of your hand, there is no semblance of "The Live of the Hunter."

Gold from Upper Peace River
On Wednesday representatives of the companies operating gold dredging machines on the waters tributary to the Upper Peace River were in Edmonton with the first class up in the shape of two gold bricks. The operators had to overcome many difficulties in getting dredging machinery into that country. The initial results have been encouraging and will lead to larger operations. It is hoped to keep the dredge working until November 15th.

Criticizes Hazing at University
The Edmonton Women's Institute branch tenders the following advice to University of Alberta students on the question of initiations and hazing: "It is resolved: that the men students of the University of Alberta should eliminate all vulgarity from their hazing proceedings; and that for the rough, unrefined, boyish introduction to university life known as initiations the women students should substitute the practice that used to be practiced by the older universities in the east, and a series of friendly receptions be given to the freshmen by the seniors, as well as kindly and helpful advice as the occasion arises; and be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the president of Alberta University, to the men students, the women students, and the university club, with the earnest request that careful consideration be given to it; as we know that it expresses the strong feeling on this subject of a large majority of the parents and taxpayers of the province."

Threshing Returns
The threshing returns, on which the department of agriculture bases its estimates of the crop yields, are coming in very slowly to the department. Threshermen who have finished their work should immediately make returns showing acreage threshed and the yields.

Minimum Wage Board Meetings
The itinerary of the Minimum Wage Board has been finally adopted, and the sessions are commencing at Medicine Hat on October 24th.

Industries in the province have been classified into sections representing Manufacturing, Office Employment, Hotel and Restaurant and Personal Services, Laundrys Dyeing and Cleaning and Retail Trade.

The complete itinerary of the sittings of the board is as follows: Medicine Hat, October 24th; Lethbridge, October 25th; Blairmore, October 26th; Drumheller, October 27th; Calgary, October 28th and 29th; Wetaskiwin, November 1st; Edmonton, November 2nd and 3rd.

Government Seed Cleaning Plant

A clean seed means a great deal to the farming industry in this province. The work of the Seed Branch of the department of agriculture to establish a seed cleaning plant at Edmonton should receive general endorsement. The use of first class clean seed must have a beneficial effect on the grain growing industry, similar to the influence shown upon the live stock business by the use of well bred pedigreed sires.

DEHORN COMMERCIAL CATTLE

A strong argument in favor of dehorning is put forward in Bulletin No. 15 of the live stock branch of the Dominion department of agriculture. The heading adopted for the bulletin is "Dehorn your commercial cattle; Cater to the Higher Market Prices." It is confidently expected, say the authorities, that, for strictly economic reasons, growers and feeders of live stock will unite in a nation-wide movement within the next twelve months, to eliminate horns from the commercial cattle. Reference is made to the resolution passed at a recent live stock conference held in Western Canada urging that all such cattle should be dehorned between March 15 and April 15 or during the month of October. The reason for advocating the period mentioned is furnished by the fact that it is easiest to perform the operation in either extremely hot or extremely cold weather.

Instances are given of actual experiments, conducted by the expert mental farms and stations, which prove beyond a doubt the wisdom of dehorning. It is also shown that cattle so treated invariably bring better prices and command ready sale than horned animals. It is also shown that horns do not have been dehorned. Horns add to the cost of production and, from the calf pen to the block are a bill of expense to the producer and the feeder. They are of so economic value to the farmer, the butcher, or the exporter, but are frequently the cause of unthriftness, discomfort and injury in the feed lot and stable; result in the placing of inferior meat on the market and cause serious loss in the killing. Proof is given that if not only pays to dehorn cattle but when, in purchasing, to buy animals that have already been operated upon. The latter are more easily shipped, show less shrinkage and damage in transit and are more economical of space than horned cattle. In addition they are easier to sell and command better prices. A prominent dealer has declared that no single stop or operation in the handling of cattle yields larger return in money than the single act of dehorning.

At a conference of shipping interests in Ottawa, it was pointed out that in the event that a store cattle trade is revived with Great Britain, consequent upon the removal of the embargo, the absence of horns would be a great commercial asset to the Canadian farmer. Methods of dehorning that should be followed are given in the bulletin which may be obtained on application to the publications branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa.

A Ponoka correspondent says: Clifford Osterland met with a serious accident a short time ago. He was carrying with some friends, after dark, the lights refused to work, so he got out and sat on the hood of the car and held a lantern for a light. The car rolled with a team hitched to a rig, the tongue striking Mr. Osterland knocking him backwards through the windshield. He was taken to the hospital at Wetaskiwin. Here's hoping he gets well and beats the Red Sox again.

BACKACHE
KIDNEY TROUBLE

When the back aches or becomes weak, it is a warning that the kidneys have become affected and should be looked after at once.

In Dea's Kidney Pills you will find a remedy that will go right to the seat of the trouble, do away with the weak, aching back, and prevent any and all kinds of serious kidney trouble.

Mr. P. N. Baillet, Goodlands, Mass., writes:—"For months, I have been troubled with my kidneys. In fact, my back ached so much I could not sleep at night. I tried everything I could think of, but to no avail. I was advised to take Dea's Kidney Pills. I used two boxes and I have never been troubled since. Dea's Kidney Pills are 50¢ a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The P. N. Baillet Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Says It Made A
New Person of Her

"Since I have been taking Tanlac I not only feel better in every way, but I am gaining weight right along," declared Mrs. Mary Gillette, 444 3rd Ave., Calgary, Alberta.

"For two or three years I suffered from a bad case of indigestion and a terribly nervous, run-down condition. I fell off from one hundred and twenty pounds to only a hundred and five, and my nerves were so shattered I often felt like I would go to pieces entirely. I didn't have energy enough hardly to do my housework. I had scarcely any appetite, even the little I ate would not digest properly and I was bothered all the time with gas on my stomach."

"But Tanlac has already made a wonderful improvement in my condition, and I have only taken three bottles so far. I have a splendid appetite, never suffer any more indigestion and that tired, exhausted feeling I used to have is all gone. My nerves have calmed down till I feel almost like a new person and am simply stronger and better in every way. Tanlac is a grand medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

To enable about sixteen friends, of Miss Edith MacIntyre who leaves on Saturday for Wetaskiwin, where she will take a position on the staff of the hospital, to say "an revoir," Mrs. Norman Smith 11505 100 avenue, entertained at the tea hour on Wednesday. Mrs. Maynard Joliffe presided over the tea table which was prettily arranged with sweet past and asters. Mrs. Gratian Roberts assisted the hostess in dispensing hospitality. —Bulletin.

O.S.A. OPENS FOR THE NINTH YEAR

On October 21st, the doors of the provincial schools of agriculture will swing open to receive students for the ninth year. Despite the difficult financial conditions that prevail at the present time, prospects for a good attendance are very rosy. Already one hundred applications for enrolment have been received and more come daily. This shows that the work of the school is being appreciated, and is directly due to the successes achieved by graduates of the school. Another fifty or more students could well be accommodated this winter.

The courses for young men and women, in agriculture and domestic science respectively are of a very practical nature, and the information given is the result of many years of scientific investigation and practical observation.

Dormitory accommodation, in a modern house and including bath, room and laundry, has been provided for young women at a rate as reasonable as $22 a month. Here the girls can enjoy lots of companionship and enjoyable life directly under the eyes of the instructors in domestic science. Good accommodation can be had by the boys, at a slight increase in cost, in private homes in the town. Young people cannot do better than to plan to spend the winter furthering their education and thus better fitting themselves for their future life.

Attention should also be given to the extension service provided by the school. Speakers will be sent on request—when possible—for farmers' or women's institutes and similar meetings, and valuable information, by letter or bulletin, will be dispensed on application, gladly and free of charge.

While not compulsory, the post of five department recommends that you place your name and address on the outside of your letters and parcels, particularly for registered articles. If your name and address are on the outside of any article that cannot be delivered, it will be returned promptly to you unopened. Unless this is done articles undelivered are to be sent to the dead letter office causing delay and inconvenience.

TOWN TOPICS

Mrs. Frank Nelson and family left Wednesday afternoon for the coast home where they will make their future home. A large number of their friends were at the depot to wish them God speed.

During the summer the F. F. Dabey company of Canada, Limited, offered $2,000 in prizes for additional tons for 2 in 1 shoe polish. Those in Alberta winning prizes were Kenneth Thomson, Bluff; H. M. Thomson, LaSalle; T. W. Brownjohn, Calgary; and C. Dunham, Edmonton.

Prairie chickens and partridge are very plentiful in the Wetaskiwin district this year, according to reports brought back to the city by those who have been in the country. Many of the hunters returning after being out on the opening day brought well-filled bags with them.

Rev. C. W. McKim of Edmonton district secretary of the North Alberta Auxiliary of the Bible Society, will deliver his illustrated lecture "The Bible in the World" in the Methodist church on Monday evening, October 22, at 8 o'clock. There will be no charge for admission, and no collection taken. All kindly invited.

Mrs. W. Gibson was hostess at a card party on Tuesday evening at her home, Lansdowne street. Five hundred was played. Mrs. F. Baker winning the ladies' first prize, and Mrs. J. Dixon the ladies' booty. High Stouven carried off the gent's first prize and J. H. Walker the gent's booty. Five tables were in play and a dainty lunch was served after cards.

The meeting of those interested in hockey on Friday evening last was very well attended, and the local situation was surveyed. As there was some uncertainty about there being a suitable rink for hockey in the city this winter, the question of organization was left in abeyance. As the majority of last year's players are available to form a team, it is sincerely hoped that a rink can be arranged for. The other teams in last year's league have organized, and will be ready as soon as ice can be made.

Rev. and Mrs. Orlando Roberts and family, who have been spending the past seven years at Fort Chipewyan arrived in the city this week to renew acquaintances.

The weather for the past week has been ideal and the farmers are erecting their greatest efforts in pushing their fall work.

Messrs. MacEachern & McCallum commenced running their flour mill for the season on Wednesday. This is earlier than usual.

The school sports day was held at the fair grounds on Friday. That other towns in Alberta are anxious to get the Wetaskiwin Tent & Mattress factory as one of their industries is most apparent. Several offers have been made to the company which are as good or better than are held out by Wetaskiwin.

C. H. Olin, M.P.P., made a trip to Edmonton this week in connection with his parliamentary duties. Alberta broke all previous western cattle records this week, when Geo. Lane sold a 154 lb steer on the Chicago market at $10.25 per cwt.

Alberta poultry fanciers will hold their next annual poultry show in Edmonton, so it was announced on Friday when the management committee of the local association held a meeting to consider preliminary plans for the big display of feathered stock.

Plates fixed for the next show were from January 15 to 19, and the provincial show will be held at the same time. For the last five years the provincial show has been held in Calgary but it is now felt that a change should be made to Edmonton.

Looking Backward FROM THE TIMES' FILES

(October 16, 1902)

It is quite evident that Wetaskiwin is getting her share of the large immigration that is coming to Alberta this season. During the past week twenty-two carloads of settlers' effects were unloaded here.

A most desirable change has been made in the train service in the C.P.R. We now have a daily mail and passenger service both ways each day, excepting Sunday.

The C.P.R. has increased the price of their lands north of township 16 and east of range 29 west of the 4th meridian to $5.00 an acre. Other lands east of the fifth meridian are $4.00 an acre.

V. Matejka has the excavation made for a 24x35 addition to the Alberta hotel.

J. A. McKay, government immigration agent of Minnesota arrived in town a few days ago with a large party of prospective settlers, who are well pleased with the district, and will likely settle here.

J. A. Brash of Millet claims the banner for growing large turnips in the district. Last year he had one weighing 55 lbs, and this year has one weighing 24 lbs, and many others nearly as large.

John Olin & Co. shipped about 150 head of cattle last week, making 800 head this firm has shipped out this season.

A new smoke stack is being erected at the mill this week.

On Monday Councillors John West and J. C. McKay were at Strathcona examining the fire fighting apparatus of that town with a view to purchasing equipment for Wetaskiwin.

(October 17, 1912)

Dr. Conn, dentist, who has been associated with Dr. Hoare for some months, leaves the city this week for Edmonton, where he will open an office on his own behalf.

Rev. and Mrs. Orlando Roberts and family, who have been spending the past seven years at Fort Chipewyan arrived in the city this week to renew acquaintances.

The weather for the past week has been ideal and the farmers are erecting their greatest efforts in pushing their fall work.

Messrs. MacEachern & McCallum commenced running their flour mill for the season on Wednesday. This is earlier than usual.
